Global Syndicated Loan Market News & Analysis

OUR SERVICE

About us

Loan Radar provides a comprehensive real-time news service on investment and sub-investment grade loans, M&A and leveraged finance, emerging markets, project, property and asset finance. It has become a benchmark for quality financial journalism and a highly respected source of information. Lenders and borrowers who access Loan Radar find the information invaluable, helping them in the process of key decision making.

Loan Radar is an independent company staffed by experienced professionals who have extensive knowledge of the global syndicated loan markets. Our depth of market penetration allows us to react in a swift and unbiased manner to report on current market activity sourced directly from banking professionals.

Wide product range for a single fee.

Loan Radar offers a wide range of products in one user-friendly site designed to help subscribers customise their requirements to maximum effect.

Daily coverage of current market news, developments and articles are sent via email or can be accessed via the website. Users can create bespoke accurate historical data reports using the Loan Radar Database.

We charge a single fee for a site license which allows an unlimited amount of users in that geographical area to have access to the news and data covering a wide range of loan products across EMEA and North America.
